2. Increase portfolio options by providing appropriate portion size options for products higher in sodium, sugars or fat to support portion control and balanced dietary choices.
3. Innovate products that fulfil needs of consumers.
4. Offer a range of choices that help address key micronutrient needs for consumers in the region.
5. Use nutrient profiling systems as a framework to classify and improve product nutritional composition.
6. Almarai does not use artificial colors or artificial flavors in its product range.
7. Almarai declares the nutritional information per serving size and per 100g/ml, when feasible and in line with applicable requirements, to enable consumers to understand their actual intake and allow for direct comparison between competing products.
8. Continue supporting food security across the region by strengthening the availability of safe, nutritious food products that have good value for money.

Almarai will communicate its Nutrition Policy to all relevant employees and external stakeholders.
